Fare and candid investigation into the qualifications of a political party which claims the confidence of the people is not only a right but a duty, and the present condition of public affairs, suggests a question which ought to be faithully pondered by every honest Republican. Are the present leaders of the Republican party, in view of all the revelations made by reform investigation, men that can, or ought, to be enrusted with the work which is most necessary for the future prosperity and well being of the country?

This consideration of the steamboat bill. This bill from the Committee of Commerce, for the appointment of shipping commissioners in the interest of sailors and of commerce came in. Among other things the bill provides that American vessels which have been registered in foreign countries since the 1st of January, 1801, may, within two years from the enact-ment of the bill, be registered as American vessels, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may pre-scribe; that foreign built iron ships of not less than two thousand tons, when owned by United States citizens, may within three years be registered in this country for trade; that all ship store and coal to be used in American vessels on voyages from the United foreign countries, may be taken from bond and disposed of for such purpose duty free; and that all vessels hereinbe-fore mentioned may be taken up by the vernment for naval service in danger after due inspection and appraise ment, the regulations for which are min-utely printed in the bill. Without reaching any action, after a somewhat pro-tracted debate, upon it, the House ad-journed. On Friday, after some general routine business, the House went into Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill. In the course of the discussion, Mr. Slocum asserted that he knew of a case where in the midst of war, and when the fate of the country was at stake, one of the head chanles in an armory, a man of great skill, had been removed and a politician put in his place. No one dare rise and deny that navy yards were filled with politicians. He had positive proof that a delegation of Republicans had come through the present administration will not venture to modify the "case" or withdraw left for their homes, having adjourned until Tuesday. PAINESVILLE, O., Jan. 12, 1872. I examined the instruments of Hazelton Bros. of New York, and state, without hesitation, that acchanism. The touch is deep and elastic, and fully equal to the Steinway or Chickering; and I can recommend it to any one wanting a real first-class instrument.

So many agents are now going about the ountry trying to persuade—and unfortunately so often succeed in selling pianos of an inferior ake-that I take this opportunity of warning people against these imposters, and telling them to take none but one of those makes which I have amed, viz : Hazelton, Steinway, and Chicker ng; and my advice is to take the Hazelton. I have this day ordered from J. J. Pratt, Esq the agent for the Hazleton Bros. Pinno, anothe
